MATRON AND ADOPTED SON ALSO PERISH

Seek Indictments Against Leopold and Leob, Both Punishable By Death—Counsel Wins First Skirmish.

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, June 2.—United States Attorney Crowe announced today as attorneys began their battle in behalf of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnapers and slayers of 14-year-old Robert Frank, that he would seek two grand jury indictments against them tomorrow.

The state's attorneys announcement came when petitions for writs of habeas corpus were presented in criminal court by counsel employed by the millionaire fathers of Leopold and Loeb. The court made the writs returnable forthwith and the prisoners were taken immediately into custody.

Indictments charging kidnapping for ransom and for murder, both punishable by death, will be asked, Mr. Crowe said.

The legal battle, into which the millions, estimated as high as $25,000,000, of the Leopolds and the Leobs will be thrown in an effort to save the boys from the gallows, is intended merely to permit legal counsel to consult with them. The attorneys say they do not expect to free them.

Chief Justice Caverly continued the hearing on the writ under June 6, and ordered the boys sent to jail without bond, placing them in the custody of the sheriff as sought by the defense attorneys.

Having won their first legal skirmish, counsel immediately went into conference with the prisoners. They intimated that the two youths would not be allowed to testify at the inquest.

Leopold was unbroken and apparently still unaffected by the tragedy. Loeb is the son of a vice president of Sears Roebuck and Company, and the son of a box manufacturer and Lake shipping magnate. Both were post graduate students. Leopold in law, and Loeb in history, before their arrest and in despair, but "this will be make of me," he asserted, once during a ride with detectives and reporters. "I'll spend a few years in jail and I'll be released. I'll come out a new man. I'll go to work and work hard and I'll amount to something."

Yeggman Rob Safe At Petersburg, Va.

(By The Associated Press.)

DRESS PARADE FEATURE TODAY OF D. M. I. FINALS

The graduating exercises of Danville Military Institute began on Sunday morning when the full cadet corps attended services at the First Presbyterian church, where Rev. Thomas P. Johnson, of Christiansburg, preached the baccalaureate sermon. The attendance was the largest yet for the church. Dr. Johnston preached a practical sermon to the graduating class, taking as his text "What Shall I Do To Be Saved," and applying it to practical life.

This afternoon will be featured by the final dress parade and battalion drill. This is to start on the campus at four o'clock and will be followed by the Coast Artillery band which has been secured for the afternoon. After the drill the public will be entertained by ladies of the faculty who will serve refreshments on the campus.

Tonight the senior class dance will be held at the Club and tomorrow morning at ten o'clock the session will come to an end with the graduation exercises and the awarding of diplomas. Bird, of the Church of the Pilgrims, will deliver the commencement address tomorrow morning.

TOWN TOPICS

Mayor Wooding is going to Martinsville tomorrow for the purpose of making the Memorial Day address at exercises which will be held under the auspices of the Mildred Lee Daughters of the Confederacy. The address will take place at half past ten o'clock at the First Baptist church. Graves of the Confederate dead will be decorated afterwards.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will meet at five o'clock this evening in the Temple office for the purpose of electing a successor to Henry B. Watkins. The organization will hold its regular meeting on Saturday. About six or seven applications are being considered, two of these being Danville men and one of them from the county.

Rev. J. M. Oakley started a revival on Sunday morning at Schoolfield Methodist church of which Rev. Roy Jarrett is pastor. The attendance was good both in the morning and at night. The services will continue for the next ten days.

The municipal election will take place one week from tomorrow, at which time Danville's next mayor will be chosen, a council of nine members and a decision rendered on bond issues totalling half a million dollars. This amount, $500,000 will be for schools, $100,000 for street improvements and $50,000 for sewer extension. The candidates have conducted a quiet canvass for votes in the main, the majority being against the proposition for bond issues. The council election and the school bond issue appear to be claiming the principal interest. The election will be held in August. The nomination for Congress will be decided. There is apparently no indication of making a nomination for the superintendent of public utilities in August and this doubtless will come in late November election. Frank Talbot is certainly to be a candidate for reelection. Eugene Marshall is understood to be contemplating entering the field but any definite decision on this point is withheld at the present time.

Harris, who fled immediately after the shooting, is being sought by the authorities of several counties.

Reports of the affair to the Richmond police stated that Harris apparently heard of the contemplated visit of the deputy sheriff on Saturday night and fled to his home. The negro's home the latter opened fire. Three negroes have been taken into custody in connection with the killing.

FICKLENIAN ARROWS FLY THICK AND FAST DURING WARM THEATER "SERMON"

Harry C. Ficklen, candidate for the council, literature and always an intrepid speaker, delivered his announced lay sermon before more than six hundred people at the Methodist theatre on Sunday afternoon. He spoke for an hour and thirty-five minutes on local affairs, was unsparring in his tongue and many times during his assault on what he called Danville's inevitable government struck a popular note.

The burden of his address in the main was that this city falls to move forward as it should because of the existence of an anonymous oligarchy of thoroughly good men. It is, he indicated, men associated in the control of the Riverside and Dan River, or the order of the gonks of the community. Mr. Ficklen warmly assailed this condition, as he did the council and the Good Government Club. Mr. Ficklen took a first four-dollar bond issue soon to be voted on, and urged voters, who are approached by solicitous ladies to tell them they would vote for the bond issue, to then to vote against it. The while he said, in view of the prevailing condition and the means adopted by the invisible government to obtain an end.

In the center of the stage of the theatre which Mr. Ficklen occupied was a table bearing an object covered by a white cloth. At a propitious moment in the midst of his address, he showed how the anonymous few who, as he charged, rule Danville, he drew the cloth from the object on the table. It revealed the famous Victor made mark, a little white dog listening to "his master's voice."

Mr. Ficklen apparently has no illusions about running for office. He said he hopes to get 24 votes. There will be no vain regrets if he loses, and he told his audience he had already heard the whetting of knives and even seen the activity of the undertaker. He will be satisfied, he says, if he can "light a candle" and arouse public opinion to what he conceived to be the truth of conditions as they prevail today.

When the curtain rolled up yesterday Mr. Ficklen stood by a little table on which an accumulation of notes and documents which the speaker has been gathering for the occasion. Underneath the table stood the little brown bag which is rarely far from his reach.

The other person on the platform was a stenographer retained by Mr. Ficklen with his accustomed foresight with a view doubtless to settling possible future conflicts as to his actual statements. He addressed himself to "Ladies and gentlemen and anonymous persons not present."

Mr. Ficklen opened in humorous vein. The acting president of the council he surmised, should not introduce because of his religious scruples. "Because he had 'tobacco plants to stick.' Chief Bell could not because of an alleged impending bootleg raid 'at the meeting up the street' (presumably the Temperance Rally at the Tabernacle). Finally it had devolved on Andy Gump to introduce him but 'Dr. Barnett' had ordered Mr. Gump to Hilltop 'the Schoolfield hospital' with 'him on the lung' and 'bottle-weevil of the heart.' Eighteen Others In Hospital Suffering From Burns

(By The Associated Press.)
LOS ANGELES, CAL., June 2.—A morgue and hospital today housed all of the 38 sub-normal girls who were in the care of the Hope Development School at Playa Del Rey, southwest of here, when for institution was razed by fire Sunday night.

Twenty forms of what had been children of less than ten years old, girls in their teens, of young women in their twenties, still children in mentality, were being prepared for burial at a Venice mortuary near the scene of the blaze. Eighteen of the charges, most of them suffering from minor burns, were at St. Catherine's Hospital, Santa Monica.

Also in the morgue were the bodies of Mrs. Drew Thompson, 48, head matron of the school, of Columbus, Ohio, who sacrificed her life in a vain effort to lead her girl charges from the flame-swept structure. And Willie Ringer, an adopted son of Mrs. Mary Jacobs, operator of the school.

At the very moment her adopted son was perishing in the fire, Mrs. Jacobs was trying to find new quarters for the children entrusted to her care. State and county officials and Mrs. Jacobs were agreed, they said, that the old frame hotel building in which the school was housed was dangerous and not suitable for the work undertaken by the institution and was making efforts to have it moved to safer quarters.

That was an unusually difficult task, according to Mrs. Clinton D. Steery, member of the county public welfare committee, under whose temporary permit Mrs. Jacobs was allowed to operate the school. "When a suitable place was found," she alleged, "residents in the vicinity would rise up in protest against the location of the home for defective children in their neighborhood. Despite our efforts, despite our realization of the fire risk at Playa Del Rey, we had no other place to put the children."

SCRIPTURAL QUOTATIONS ARE HEARD IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, May 31.—A barrage of scriptural quotations was laid down in the Senate today during a debate on the child labor amendment.

Quotations by Senator Fletcher, Democrat, Florida, of such passages as "The laborer is worthy of his hire" were met by Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, with "If any offend the least of these, better would it be if a millstone were hanged around his neck and he were drowned in the sea." Senator Bayard, Democrat, Delaware, suggested that the author of the late quotation himself worked as a carpenter at the age of twelve and suffered no mental handicap.

Germ-carrying Flies Destroyed by Dethol

Scientific preparation kills these filthy pests by roomful

Once the common house-fly was considered only a nuisance. A pest to be "shooed" away or, if possible, killed without too much effort.

To-day, however, all this is changed. Doctors now are agreed that many diseases are spread by germs carried from place to place on the filthy feet of flies. Typhoid fever and other malignant diseases frequently can be traced directly to the flies that crawl over your food or wipe their dirty feet on your face as you sleep.

Our best protection against the disgusting, muzzling fly is Dethol—a modern liquid spray that destroys flies by the roomful. Sprayed regularly about the house, Dethol will keep your whole home free from flies, mosquitoes, roaches, ants, bedbugs, moths and other "noisome, destructive insect life." Full directions on can.

Dethol also is invaluable as an aid in house cleaning. Sprayed in musty places about the home, Dethol sweetly purifies and disinfects the air like a cleansing breeze. Sprayed lightly on sinks, tubs, tile, windows, glassware, etc., Dethol saves hard scrubbing. You simply wipe the sprayed articles clean with a damp rag. Dethol does not stain.

Drug, grocery, hardware and department stores sell Dethol in the handy combination package—complete with sprayer and large can of liquid—for 85 cents.

You really cannot afford to be without Dethol. If your dealer hasn't Dethol, we will send you the combination package, just free on receipt of one dollar. Dethol Mfg. Co., Inc., Richmond, Va.

Man Too Funny, Girl Too Pretty

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN

NEA Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 2.—Another Broadway bubble has burst. And with it comes the blow-up of another Gay Night Way affair of two of the White Light district's favorites—Imogene Wilson, its most beautiful girl, and Frank Tinney, its funniest man.

All because she, the psychologists say, was too beautiful and he was too funny. It began with a "Suicide Party" for Miss Wilson and ended with jail for Frank Tinney. But in the interim, the love that was theirs was shattered—and so was Miss Wilson. For in the aftermath of her party the pretty girl got a bad beating on arms, head and body.

As a result she had Tinney arrested—and ended her love's youth, if not too sweet, dream.

Miss Wilson is one of the thousands of country girls who come to New York to get into the white lights.

An orphan, reared in a convent at St. Joseph, Mo., she never received much warning against life.

"The nuns were so sweet and good," she says, "they gave me nothing but love and kindness. And I dreamed—of wonderful men, happiness and romance."

So I came to New York to go on the stage. Because I had good looks, I soon got a job—in a play called "Daffy Dill," which starred Frank Tinney.

"One day in Providence, R. I., he invited me to come and see him. I went. That was the beginning."

Their affair ripened into love. Broadway was started gossiping. For Tinney was married and had a child. But his wife was away in California.

Miss Wilson's beauty soon attracted attention. She became a Folies girl and was acclaimed the most beautiful. Plaudits and kind words completed the change of the convent maiden into a Broadway favorite.

At times there was rumor of a Tinney divorce. But the case never came into court. And the black-faced comedian continued his affair with Miss Wilson, whom he called affectionately "Bubble."

She urged him to go back to his wife on her return from the coast. But her pleas went unanswered.

In a moment of despondency Miss Wilson decided to commit suicide. To keep attuned to the glamor that had her final exit at an elaborate party staged in her apartment.

Guests were gathered, wine flowed freely, and the morning was at its height, when Miss Wilson swallowed some tablets that she thought were bichloride of mercury. The party was too lively to take her seriously. Its members planted a lily in her hand and held a mock funeral.

But one more sober person phoned for an ambulance. The physician found that Miss Wilson had made a mistake. She had taken only a sugar tablet.

When the story got into the newspapers, Tinney's name was mentioned. She went around to the apartment next night.

In the fracas which followed Miss Wilson was badly beaten—"Yet I loved him so," she said afterwards. "And he loved me."

Such manifestation of love, points out William J. Fielding, eminent psychoanalyst, is the result of emotional temperament, run riot.

"It is found among stage folk, whose very work is one of the emotional."

"MOONSHINE" IN IRELAND ALMOST AN OPEN TRADE

DUBLIN, May 30.—The manufacture of pure or illicit whisky in the Free State has grown from an occasional adventure into an industry. The loss in revenue is much the least part of the consequent damage.

The matter has become the subject of numerous denunciations by the bishops, and many crimes are attributed to the effect of this fiery spirit on young men. But the real extent of the evil has never been so fully set out as in the Irish Statement, a weekly journal founded by Sir Horace Plunkett with the subscriptions of American friends.

A writer in the current issue explains that the industry has baffled the efforts of the government to suppress it. The profits are widely distributed. Masters trading openly as such sell the materials to local shopkeepers who supply the potent makers. Railway companies carry tons of corn into the remotest parts of Connaught and every railway official, says the writer, knows that the consignments are for shopkeepers who supply the potent makers.

"The whole population is aware of this industry and scarcely one in a hundred will give information regarding the illegal end of it."

TODAY'S Washington LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Members of Congress have a new reason for putting up a hard fight for re-election this year.

For if they don't come back they'll have no opportunity to enjoy the privileges of the new Congressional Country Club, which has just been opened as the "playground of officialdom."

This new club layout is declared to be the largest and most complete in the country. The clubhouse and equipment cost a round million dollars. The grounds, comprising more than 400 acres of rolling hills and dale in Maryland, 12 miles from the White House, gives room for two 18-hole and one nine-hole golf courses, an artificial lake for swimming, and special facilities for horseback riding.

President Coolidge was the guest of honor at the official opening of the other night. Cabinet members, senators and representatives, high army and navy officials, visiting governors, diplomats and other dignitaries were in evidence. That the club's claim to favor with "officialdom" was justified.

The development of this new club, which gives promise of being the most representative as well as the largest and finest in the capital, is due to the activities of three members of Congress—R. Clint Cole, of Ohio, S. O. Bland of Virginia and Oscar L. Loring of Indiana.

Initiative membership was enrolled which established the responsible support behind the movement. Herbert Hoover was made president and Oscar Underwood first vice president. Colonel C. G. Sherrill, superintendent of public buildings and grounds in the District of Columbia, headed a committee in charge of development of grounds and building. Admiral Cary T. Grayson was made chairman of the membership committee.

The vision and energy these men brought to bear in the development of this new play place for Washington officialdom has given the capital a center for social and recreational foregatherings not equaled anywhere in these United States.

So, if your congressman puts up a more than usually energetic fight to be sent back to Washington, the reason may lie in his desire to qualify for two more years of golf at the Congressional Country Club.

A national Mormon church is to be erected in Washington, due to the efforts of Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, one of the leaders of the cult established and made famous by Brigham Young.

GAVE CARDUI TO DAUGHTER

Alabama Mother Had Thorough Confidence in Cardui, as a Result of Her Own Long, Successful Use Of It.

Gadsden, Ala.—"My back and hips gave me a great deal of trouble before my first baby was born," Mrs. W. J. Daugherty recently told a visitor at her home on Route 2, here.

"When I became the second time," continued Mrs. Daugherty, "I had the same trouble, only worse. Medicines did me no good at all, in fact, I got worse instead of better. Finally, when I had given up hope of getting well, a neighbor told me about Cardui. My husband got me a bottle and I started on it at once."

"Immediately I began to improve. I have taken Cardui ever since when I get puny. For female trouble it can't be beat. I gave it to my daughter, and she is now thirteen."

"I took because I suffered so from aching all over—arms, legs and head. My head would ache for weeks at a time. After taking Cardui I have completely recovered."

Cardui is a perfectly harmless mild, purely vegetable extract of medicinal herbs. One of the ingredients of which it is composed has been known to medical science for over six hundred years and has been recommended by medical writers as being of great value in many female ailments. Sold everywhere.

"Even though beaten, the subject keeps on loving. But when the beating is accompanied by so much shock as that indicated in Miss Wilson's statement, revulsion sets in—and love turns to hate."

"I doubt very much if the girl will ever again be able to love her man—whose humiliated may be just a forced tendency to overcome a serious brooding side that might have been dominant."

But whatever the final outcome of her affair, Miss Wilson hopes that it will serve as a lesson to others—"Who too," she says, "have been beaten, degraded, shamed and humiliated—as I have been."

HEPBURN CITES EFFORTS TO WEAKEN LIQUOR LAWS AT RALLY IN TABERNACLE

A mass meeting under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League at which addresses in the nature of stirring appeals for better enforcement of the prohibition law were made by A. D. Ivey, of Leesville, and Superintendent David Hephburn, of the Virginia organization, was held at Ridge Street tabernacle Sunday.

Mr. Ivey spoke along general lines, calling attention of his audience to the fact that we were facing a crisis in the history of the country, citing facts and figures to support his assertions. He emphasized very strongly the importance of good citizens using every means possible to assist and cooperate with officers of the law to the end that better and more healthful conditions might prevail. The address of Mr. Ivey was listened to attentively by his audience, who showed their appreciation by hearty hand-clapping and "amens."

About 125 persons attended the rally. Mr. Ivey in his plea for co-operation with enforcement officers pleaded for the creation of a sympathetic public sentiment, characterizing that as the power that rules the atmosphere here and there and the sentiment that have force. A noteworthy phase of his speech was his advice that the State "should be discreet in the appointment of our officers and that it should uphold their hands." He urged that there be no favoritism in the trials and lawful methods and in this connection he said: "Let us not convict men by trampling under foot the sacred principles of our government and then expect the liberties of North Carolina to be upheld." He insisted that there was need of revolutionizing enforcement methods. "We must fight those who stand in high places," he said.

After a collection had been taken, the audience listened to a baritone solo by J. C. Elliott, who sang well an appropriate sacred selection.

Rev. David Hephburn followed with a spirited address, giving data showing the relative status of law enforcement by the various courts of Virginia. The address of Mr. Hephburn was practical in that it showed what prohibition was doing for the State of Virginia.

Mr. Hephburn, a veteran campaigner in his application of the general arguments and plea of Mr. Ivey, said he wanted to make a personal and specific application. He said there are now 59 bills pending in Congress, all designed to weaken the law, the first of the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act. He cited resolutions offered by the advocates of modification wherein it was charged that drunkenness is increasing and that the enforcement of prohibition is ineffective and in this connection he warned his hearers that it would require a majority of but one in a congressional vote to change the law fixing the alcoholic content of beverages to be lawful to sell and that such a majority of persistent efforts were being made to accomplish such a weakening of the law. In Virginia he pronounced prohibition "a tremendous success," but in this connection he asserted that the enforcement of prohibition is in the hands of its enforcers. He cited a case in Franklin county, where he said a sheriff had been elected by a large majority after he had plainly proclaimed that if elected he would make nothing to do with prohibition law enforcement. He reminded his hearers that under the new law effective June 15th it would become unlawful to have liquor in the home or anywhere else, unless it was proved that it was lawful brought by the holder. "We have one of the best laws in the whole country," he said with enthusiasm. He cited a case in Martinsville in which a violator of the prohibition law had confessed his guilt, yet a jury had with returned a verdict of "not guilty." He commended the judge of the court who had rebuked that jury and ordered the names of those jurors stricken from the jury list.

After citing statistics showing the relative efficiency in various cities in the enforcement of the law, the number of convictions, of jail sentences and number of days of such sentences, Mr. Hephburn reminded his hearers that under an amendment approved by the General Assembly in 1922 the power to suspend jail sentences had been taken from the courts. He added, however, that in cities where violators were tried under ordinances or local laws, the evil of suspending sentences was still possible. In this connection the speaker warmly commended Attorney General John H. Standley, head of the enforcement agencies of the State, saying that he is "right on the job."

Mr. Hephburn gave the church chief credit for what had been accomplished. In offering resolutions prepared for presentation at the meeting, Dr. J. M. Shelburne suggested a change, rather an interpretation of "to use their best efforts to mete out justice to all violators of criminal laws," found in the last section of the resolutions, to mean that the courts should go to the limit of the law in inflicting punishment for violations.

Dr. Shelburne then read the resolutions herewith appended and in doing so interpolated some of his own ideas and views, saying among other things that "The average court is little better than a school for criminals." He pleaded for "more vicarious sufferings."

The resolutions were then read, and Rev. C. J. Parker in commenting thereon spoke with vehemence and vigor in condemnation of those whose apathetic attitude weakened enforcement.

W. T. Shelton ascended the rostrum and also spoke briefly, commending the need of such an appeal to public sentiment.

These resolutions were adopted by a standing vote:

That, whereas, the principles of prohibition, so long advocated by the church and temperance organizations have been enacted into State and Federal law, and

Whereas, the results obtained through and by the operation of the law in both State and nation have been so helpful and beneficial, and

Whereas, it is generally known that there are certain designing men, working through various organizations, to defeat the ends and purposes sought by the friends of prohibition;

Therefore, we wish to go on record as favoring the 15th Amendment to our federal constitution and the Volstead act, and we respectfully urge all our people, both men and women, to use their best efforts to inspire confidence in the law, and thereby, insure the enforcement of the law against all violations.

Resolved, that we give our moral support to all officers, whose duty it is to uphold and enforce the law, thereby assisting them to increase due respect, not only for the prohibition law, but all laws upon our statute books.

Resolved, that we are in sympathy with such measures as are being employed by the nations of the world, looking to the establishment of "world peace."

Resolved, that we continue our co-operation with all organizations, and particularly the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia that are working to outlaw the liquor traffic in all its forms.

Resolved, that we call upon our Judges, Mayors, Magistrates, Jurors and all officers who have to do with the enforcement of our criminal laws, to use their best efforts to mete out justice to all violators of our criminal laws, and that the courts should go to the limit of the law in inflicting punishment for violations.

At the close of the meeting a collection was taken, this meeting $12.72 precipitating the issue. It is conceded that the case will finally reach the Supreme court on habeas corpus proceedings and the tribunal will not convene until June so there is nothing to be gained by testing Judge Gregory's second capias for Pool just now.

Mr. Easley denied reports current that he has retained another firm of lawyers in Halifax to assist the state in bringing Pool to trial. Counsel for the defense, however, is preparing to stage a keen fight and Harry Smith of Richmond, a well known criminal lawyer is understood to have been retained. Marshall E. Booker is one member of counsel for the defense and Jack Lee and William Tuck already are in the case. Mr. Lee, however, probably will not figure very largely in the case. It is reported here that he recently suffered a heart attack and his health is not strong enough to warrant his injection into the case. His assistant, Miss Carrie Gregory, however, is representing him here.

At this stage Mr. Ficklen read editorial references, suggesting the possibility of inclusion in the corporate limits of New Design and D. M. L. He made a casual reference to the case involving the school board and then sought to show the exertion of influence to the invisible government in coloring editorial opinion. He condemned "pushy-footing" and expressed his determination to continue to oppose "that group." It was here that he moved to the table "His Master's Voice." Mr. Ficklen then turned to Danville's eagerness to endorse movements. It is quite popular here, he insisted, and the people do not realize how they are exploited. There is, he continued, an endorsement faction. "It usually starts in the council and runs through the civic clubs to the Retail Merchants' Association and then to the Chamber of Commerce. Just a few do it in the name of the people when most of them don't know anything about it." He called them "repeaters," adding that the people of Danville "are fed up on it."

After dealing with the alleged affiliation between the invisible government and the endorsement movement, the speaker propounded his open question to the Rotarians, the Kiwanians, the Lions, the Retail Merchants' Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the Good Government Club, demanding an answer as to whether they favor or oppose the extension of the corporate limits. The question was put publicly and Mr. Ficklen said that he expected an answer, adding that Danville people are tired of "representation without taxation."

his address. Mr. Ficklen issued a public challenge for a joint debate on the corporate limit extension question at any time.

Turning to the school bond issue, Mr. Ficklen said that a "lot of sob-stuff" is being heard about children not able to attend school because they are so overcrowded. Most of those making the outcry, he asserted, are those with big holdings "in the promised land of Schoolfield." He made a sly reference here to the Golden Rule and the Rule of Gold, are not the same thing. He spoke of local economic conditions and half pay wages, asserting that while employees' salaries have been cut, none of the high salaried officials had suffered any reduction. The speaker expressed wonder how this measured up with the Golden Rule.

The speaker en passant made reference to efforts to have the city changed and he maintained the reasonableness of the clause of the city charter which provides that bond issues shall be carried by a two-thirds vote, a majority of the realtors being included in that two-thirds. Mr. Ficklen denied that he had "rushed down" to Richmond but was "down" to the school board. He said he was certainly rushed back to Danville. Mr. Ficklen then turned to the State law governing school boards and read a section which provides that the board shall call meetings of the citizens periodically to discuss the schools. He insisted that such a meeting be held and that the citizens be accorded the right to cross-examine the members of the board. He insisted that the cry of overcrowding is artificial and he stated that he would like to have the names and addresses of people who have left Danville because their children could not get into the schools. Then he charged that people outside of Danville are being admitted to the city schools. He cited three instances, denying the State of California and Pennsylvania are represented in Danville schools and that one of the graduates of the high school hailed from the county. Mr. Ficklen admitted that education of the children is the most sacred "bill" but he said that the school board then ventilated his views on education generally and declared impatience with modern fads. It developed that he once taught school here and Frank Talbott was one of his pupils. The school board are "right," he asserted, and he expressed himself in favor of plain buildings and the expenditure of money on the equipment of such buildings. He was caustic in his reference to the "high falloo" stuff, tech. advisors, folk dances, folk songs and cheer leading. "They tell you you're overweight or overweight and there they stop," he added. The schools, he insisted, are far off the track and they are paying too much attention to the outside things and not enough to genuine study. The whole object of the public school, he said, is to turn out intelligent voters on whom Democracy rests. The speaker insisted that the trump who comes to the office is not of the school. The children do not have the time to study, he said. "They call this being progressive, but it's all tommyrot. They want to turn the children into mill auxiliaries," he asserted. Mr. Ficklen returned to an endorsement report filed a year ago by the Farmville Educational Institute in which the assertion is made that the cost of maintaining public schools is growing so high that free schools are actually imperilled. After reading it, he asserted that the board action should be voted down on June 10th. "I urge you to vote it down," he stated. "Teach them some sense, we know the sort of education we want."

The Ficklenian assault was now directed at what he termed "benevolent intimidation," the mission of which is to drive people in high places. The speaker stated that he favored the adoption of the Australian ballot system, which provides that each voter shall mark his ticket forty feet from the nearest person and in quarters where no exercise has to be made without fear of being overlooked. Mr. Ficklen stated that he had seen at the fourth ward violation of the election law, and he promised that he would do what he could to prevent a recurrence at the next election. He asserted that grand jury action and cited the penalty which is a fine of $500 and a jail term of six months. Dwelling further on what he alleged to be intimidation of the voters, Mr. Ficklen cited difficulties which would be in the way of incorporating Schoolfield, asserting that it would be difficult to find fifty freeholders in the village who could take the initial step because they realized that such action would be visited by punishment by the invisible government.

Mr. Ficklen concluded his address by stating that he was connected with no ticket and that if defeated he would prove a lively corpse and a restless "hant" and that he was determined to remain as plain as his soul and master of his fate.

NORRIS BILL IS RECOMMENDED BY COMMITTEE

Senate Body Assails Attitude of Administration Towards Offer of Ford and Recommends Enactment of Norris Measure.

Governors Of N. C. and Va. To Be There Thurs.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Henry Ford's Muscle Shoals bid and the attitude of the administration towards it are denounced in vigorous terms in the majority report of the Senate agriculture committee which at the same time recommends enactment of the amended Norris bill for government ownership and supervision. The report, drafted by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, chairman of the committee, makes repeated reference to what it terms Mr. Ford's withdrawal as a candidate for president and his decision to support President Coolidge and assails in particular the plan to replace in the properties the Gorgas Steam Plant sold to the Alabama Power Company for $3,472,487.

"When the sale of the Gorgas Plant," says the report, "was made by the secretary of war in which I have said simply carried for the contract made by the predecessor, Mr. Ford, who was at that time a candidate for president of the United States, became exceedingly angry and condemned the secretary of war and through him the administration in unmeasured and discourteous terms."

"To appease his anger, a vacillating administration publicly announced that the amount received for the Gorgas plant would be credited upon the five million dollars which Mr. Ford agreed to pay for Muscle Shoals, in case his bid was accepted by Congress."

"This additional gift ought to satisfy Mr. Ford and keep him good natured, at least until after election," the report adds. "No one has ever offered an excuse for directing the secretary of war to condemn private property and pay for it out of public funds, in order to turn it over to a private corporation to be used for the sole benefit of that corporation."

"As far as I know this is the first time such a thing has ever been attempted. This proposed new plan, like the old one at Gorgas, has no connection whatever with Muscle Shoals. It is, however, a very valuable acquisition to the Ford corporation. It will, in effect, make him a gift of a steam power plant located at the mouth of a coal mine. It ought to go a great way in bringing satisfaction to any persons who possess a mania for great wealth and commercial power."

The report points out that the Norris bill gives the secretary of agriculture authority to lease nitrate plant No. 2, to any person or corporation which it desires, would include Mr. Ford, for the manufacture of fertilizer and directs that power be supplied to operate the plant.

The report sets forth that the Norris bill contemplates the distribution of all power not needed for fertilizer production and would give the government an important key to a giant power system that could cover the entire south, thus, it declares, preventing power monopoly. Fertilizer, it adds, would be produced either by the department of agriculture or by a private lessee under the supervision of the department and power production and distribution would be administered by a "federal power corporation," which would use as operating capital, in addition to the sum obtained from the Alabama Power Company for the Gorgas plant, accumulated earnings sufficient to bring the total up to $25,000,000. The sum of $1,500,000 would be appropriated for the fertilizer business and, along with numerous other clauses dealing with completion of the properties, construction work and experimental activities, provision is made for the manufacture of explosives for use of the army and navy.

the fact that some fifty South American road engineers are to be in the party on an itinerary of American States where they are observing road building operations, the largest manufacturers of road making machinery have sent late models of their machines to Nello Teer's camp. Several South American countries are about to undertake enormous road building projects and that is why they are first visiting America to see how their northern neighbor builds roads. The manufacturers in the hope of doubtless making sales of machinery to these Latin-American countries have seen to it that every chance of observing their machines in operation is given.

The highway party will leave Greensboro at nine o'clock Thursday and expects to return to Greensboro by six o'clock that evening. Preparations have already been made for the free barbecue in the grove of the R. S. Graves homestead. Over two thousand pounds of pork, mutton, beef and chicken has also been arranged for the barbecue as well as the necessary trimmings. After dinner has been served, George Anderson, formerly superintendent of county schools, will deliver an address of welcome and in all probability Frank Paige, chairman of the North Carolina Highway Commission, will make a response. Possibly some of the more eminent foreign ministers to be present, will also be heard. It is understood that the two governors will not speak at this point.

After the Vanceville entertainment is over the whole party will proceed on route No. 62 to Baynes Station, turning east towards Hightowers, will watch the actual construction of roads. From Hightowers the party will proceed to Haw River and from there back to Greensboro.

Interest is being manifested in all parts of the county in the Vanceville visit and a great throng is looked for. It is expected that there will be a large delegation here from Danville. Besides Governor Cameron Morrison and Governor Trinkle, Thomas A. le Breton, ambassador from the United States from Brazil. The charge d'affaires of Ecuador, Mr. Rafael H. Elizalde, minister of Ecuador. The charge d'affaires of Panama, will be present, also Augusto Cochrane de Alencar, the ambassador to the United States from Brazil. The charge d'affaires of Salvador and Costa Rica, is also expected to be present with about fifty road authorities, representing South American and Latin American countries.

BUNGALOWS AND GOLF LINKS MENACE TOMB OF POET GRAY

STOKE, POGES, Eng., May 30.—The natives of this parish, famous for its connection with the Penn family, founders of the state of Pennsylvania, and also its associations with the poet Gray, are disturbed because of the march of progress. The pretty neighborhood has recently attracted golfers and others as an ideal spot to build labor saving bungalows, and these are gradually increasing in numbers and getting closer to the churchyard containing Gray's monument and tomb. As the 12th century church badly needs repairing a fund has been opened for its restoration, and also to purchase several acres of surrounding land, so that Gray's tomb will not be overshadowed or swamped as the fund makes public it "by the tide of modernism" in the shape of up-to-date cottages.

PRETTY-SLIP-ON

In Lucille green linen or silk crepe, Chinese red or daffodil yellow, this straight line frock would be extremely smart. The softer cottons both plain and printed are good too. The really nice feature about this design is its extreme simplicity—even the beginner will find it an easy dress to make.

The pattern for No. 2115 can be had in sizes 16 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. In the medium size, 34½ yards of 36-inch material with 54 yard of 22-inch contrasting and 2 yards of edging is needed. Price 15c in stamps or coin (coin preferred).

CHARLES KENDALL IS SENT TO GRAND JURY

(By The Associated Press)
FREDERICK, Va., May 31.—Following a preliminary hearing at Spotsylvania Court House today, Charles Kendall, 23-year-old farmer, charged with the murder of Dr. Robert L. Powell, at Granite Springs on May 17, was sent on to the grand jury in Spotsylvania circuit court the next term of which convenes Monday June 2.

Counsel for the accused announced they would seek bail upon indictment of Kendall while acting commonwealth's attorney C. O'Connor Goolrick said he would vigorously oppose the release of the alleged slayer and will ask for prompt trial during the June term of court.

Young Kendall is now in Spotsylvania jail and has maintained a stolid silence since his arrest two days after the murder, and has refused to make any public statement.

Two witnesses were put on the stand by the state in the hearing today, one being an eye witness to the tragedy.

ALL-GERMAN AUTO SHOW

BERLIN, May 30.—The German automobile manufacturers have decided to hold a national exhibit this fall and during the week it is planned to arrange a race for the grand prize of the Automobile Club of Germany. It is quite likely that this will be the last exclusively German auto exhibit, as in September or October the need of an embargo on the importation of cars probably will be lifted.

The Eye Is the Window of The Soul

The Effect of Eye-Strain Upon the Disposition of Women.
"The eyes are the windows of the soul," as an oft-quoted expression, the force of which is hardly appreciated.

Scientists have demonstrated that many of the causes of nervous irritability and headache, arising from eye-strain, are due to the fact that the eyes are the windows of the soul, and the soul is the seat of the emotions.

South Boston

The Halifax County officers made a big haul at 11 p. m., Friday evening when they nabbed Henry Hudson, white and Willie Watkins, colored, at Clover. The officers had been tipped off that he men were bringing in a load of counter-brand whiskey, and they caught them in the act of unloading it. They had a Ford touring car, a 38 calibre Smith & Wesson pistol, and eleven gallons of joy water when they were captured. They were given a preliminary hearing, and placed under bond in the sum of $1,000 each. They will be tried at Halifax next Monday. It was reported that Hudson gave bond, and purchased a new Ford car. He then returned to his home at Clover.

In another raid made at Clover, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, C. S. Powell and his son O. S. Powell were taken into custody by the officers of the law. They had a rather unique and unusual method of handling their wares for the local trade. The upholstering had been removed from the back of the seat and a copper tank had been placed there, the whiskey being withdrawn from the tank when a sale was made. The tank contained five gallons when they were arrested. They were placed in jail at South Boston, and will probably be given a hearing Monday morning.

MUCH GOLD SHIPPED TO INDIA

LONDON, May 31.—Extraordinarily heavy shipments of gold to India, both from London and New York has been going on for the last three weeks, the amount sent being estimated at some hundreds of millions. It is stated, over $100,000,000 from the Irving National Bank and Guaranty Trust Company of New York, passed through London to India. The managers also have been making heavy shipments of gold—both coin and bullion. No explanation is given for the heavy demand of gold in India.

The Tangle

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM RUTH ELLINGTON TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

DEAREST LESLIE: Hurrah! Hurrah and a tiger! Why, dear girl, with six thousand dollars we can make a lingerie shop that will be the talk of the United States. People will come from everywhere. We can do a mail order business. I wonder if you realize what the first six months of our venture has totaled in profits. I intended to keep it to tell you when you arrive home, but I can't. I took an inventory this last week, and found that we have on hand goods which total more than our original three thousand dollar purchase, and a deposit of twenty-five hundred dollars in the bank—almost a hundred per cent. profit.

I haven't been able for quite a while to supply the demands of our customers here in Albany. What I would like to do would be to add our own designers and workers. Every day I have women come in here to work for us. Of course we cannot obtain experienced workers as cheaply as they do in New York, for I for one do not believe in sweatshop methods. But even when paying a living wage for the most experienced workers, we can make a great deal more money than we do now.

I shall insist, however, my dear Leslie, upon your taking a third of the profits. I have always thought it was a one-sided arrangement, for with one-half the profits and my liberal salary, I am making really much more than you, and I never could have done this without you. I do not think this is fair.

You were my friend when I needed friends most. You believed in me when no man in the world, unless it was Walter Burke, would have done so. After this no man may say to me that women do not stand by each other. If I were being tried for a crime of which I was innocent, but knew my case was clouded with a great deal of circumstantial evidence, I would rather be tried by a jury of women than by a jury of men. And as for gossip—my dear Leslie, you are much more malicious in their gossiping.

I feel very strongly on this subject, because you know the story that got around me when Harry left me. It was the men that said I probably knew all about Harry's defalcation, and that I certainly must have known about his betrayal of me with the woman he took away with him. Of course, I knew he was paying the woman some attention, but I claim that a wife is the last one to know or realize that her husband is untrue to her. When all her friends are absolutely sure of it, she still remains in ignorance. (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

HIGGINBOTHAM IS GRANTED NEW TRIAL

TALLAHASSEE, Ala., May 31.—Thomas W. Higginbotham, convicted in Columbia county circuit court last July of second degree murder, and sentenced to 20 years as an outgrowth of the death of Martin Tabert, North Dakota youth, was granted a new trial by the Florida supreme court reversing the lower court.

The lower court was reversed on the charge of venue, one of the grounds raised by Higginbotham. The supreme court, in its opinion, held that the circuit judge erred in granting the change of venue from Dixie county to Columbia county, on motion by the state and over the defense objection without first having made an actual test as to whether it was practically impossible to procure an impartial jury in Dixie county.

Reynolds Gets Six Years For Robbery

(By The Associated Press.)

PETERSBURG, Va., May 31.—Convicted of participating in the robbery of $37,000 from an express car on the Norfolk and Western "Cannon Ball" last December, J. Fred Reynolds of this city, tonight was sentenced to six years penal servitude by a grand jury in Prince George circuit court. The verdict of the jury was returned at six o'clock, after the jurors had considered the case for an hour and a quarter.

Counsel for the defense, attorneys Richard H. Mann and O. A. Pollard of Petersburg, immediately entered a motion for a new trial, declaring the verdict contrary to law and evidence, and making exception to the instructions given the jury. Judge Peterson set June 13 as the date for hearing arguments on the motion.

Merhout Not Sentenced.
Frank Merhout, who pleaded guilty to a conspicuous part in the express robbery and appeared as the principal witness for the prosecution against Reynolds, was not sentenced tonight. Following Merhout's formal declaration of his guilt, the pronouncement of sentence was suspended. He will also appear against W. J. Longmire and Joseph Stephens, former express messenger, who were implicated in his alleged confession of the robbery and are now awaiting trial.

Argument of the case was begun in Prince George court house about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. F. Coker Haugh, commonwealth's attorney, first addressed the jury, followed by Mr. Pollard and Mr. Mann, counsel for the defense. The summing up was made by J. O. Hefflin, attorney for the American Railway Express Company, assisting the prosecution.

WHAT ENGLISH ACTORS THINK OF OUR STAGE

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 31.—Lady Diana Manners, who has alternated in the role of the Madonna and the Nun in the New York production of "The Miracle" sailed for England today believing, she said, that New Yorkers were delightfully appreciative of stage art, although they drank far too much liquor and practiced too little democracy.

"They're really more Democratic in London, don't you know," she confided to reporters. "And the drinking I never saw so much of it in dear old England."

She said she was anxious to return to American footlights, and that she planned to come here again next autumn.

Lady Diana was accompanied by her husband, Alfred Duff Cooper, who is returning to resume duties with the British foreign office.

The weight of the earth is estimated at six trillion tons.

The return of George Harvey

George Harvey—journalist, editor and diplomat, who just completed his service as American Ambassador to Great Britain—assumed editorial direction of The Washington Post on June 1.

The return of Colonel Harvey to public life in America is not only a triumph of newspaper enterprise—but an event of outstanding political importance.

Colonel Harvey needs no introduction to newspaper readers. For more than a quarter century, his fearless expression of views on matters of great public interest, from the platform and through Harvey's Weekly and the North American Review, made him one of the conspicuous figures in the life of the nation.

"Maker of Presidents" is what contemporary historians call him. His political sagacity and foresight contributed largely to the nomination and election of Presidents Cleveland, Wilson and Harding.

What Colonel Harvey will say during the conventions and in the coming Presidential campaign has already aroused speculation. Editorials in The Washington Post from Colonel Harvey's pen will command immediate and nation-wide attention.

What Colonel Harvey will say about the relations of America and Europe is being eagerly awaited by statesmen here and abroad.

Freed from three years of diplomatic restraint, Colonel Harvey's comments in the "Post" on world problems will be of extraordinary interest and international importance.

Colonel Harvey will write exclusively for The Washington Post.

GIBBONS EASILY DEFEATED CARPENTIER IN EVERY ROUND

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 31.—Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, Minn., the only boxer ever to stay the limit with Jack Dempsey, restored himself to standing as a contender for the world's heavyweight championship today when he decisively defeated Georges Carpentier, ring idol of France, in their ten-round contest. It was decided before a capacity crowd of 27,000 to 30,000 spectators in the sky-blue arena on the edge of this little resort city.

Gibbons, winning from start to finish, perfect master of the situation at every stage of the battle, had his French foe staggering and groggy half a dozen times, and only Carpentier's refusal to battle possibly saved him from a knockout.

ROUND TWO.

Rain began to sprinkle as the boxers came out for the third round.

ROUND THREE.

ROUND FOUR.
They clinched and Tom dug two lefts to body. Gibbons hooked to chin and snapped over right to head. Carpentier backed away but suddenly landed a short right to chin. He missed left swing. Tom backed Carpentier to corner and punished him on head and body. Carpentier dropped left to face and caught two lefts to chin in return. MURPHY OVERCOME LEAD AND IN ONE BIG INNING WALLOP GREENSBORO 10-5

Danville took the final game of the four with Greensboro, winning Saturday's fracas by the healthy ratio of 10 to 5. Incidentally, the result was gratifying in indicating that the Champions had found their lost batting eyes.

What is still more gratifying, they bunched their bingles in four innings and scored all their runs in three by timely and consecutive batting, and their batting was above criticism. The visitors wobbled a bit in their fielding. Zitzke fooling two of his five chances, while the reliable Irbey erred in handling a ground ball in center, a palpable error, too. He also dropped a fly ball, but it was a hard chance.

The Danville team scored a hit and a walk in the first inning. The visitors wobbled a bit in their fielding. Zitzke fooling two of his five chances, while the reliable Irbey erred in handling a ground ball in center, a palpable error, too. He also dropped a fly ball, but it was a hard chance.

Two of Greensboro's runs resulted from Lawrence Wilson's only base on balls and Euliss' home-run smash in the fifth inning. That was about all Euliss did, for he was driven from the box in the fifth by a shower of consecutive hits and his own contribution of two bases on balls, a combination that netted Danville five runs and settled the game.

Lawrence Wilson was started for the second time this week and again showed that he was not in form. Four hits, one of them a lucky high bound, and his own error in the first inning accounted for the visitors' trio of tallies. He started the second inning by walking Euliss. Pitcher C. Wilson went out, but Zitzke, who did most of Greensboro's batting, rapped out a two-base hit. Then Harris was retired in favor of Lawrence Wilson, who forced O'Hara to pop up for the first out.

Manager Carroll offered the moon-fixer, C. Wilson, who pitched such a brilliant game at Greensboro earlier in the week, as his box choice. The tall lad struck out Regan and Belk in the opening inning, but walked Murphy. In the second he forced Regan to ground out, but he hit Belk, who walked. Then he hit Euliss, who walked. FIRPO WILL FIGHT NEGRO HARRY WILKS
(By The Associated Press.)
BUENOS AIRES, May 31.—Luis Angel Firpo will fight Harry Wilks, a Negro, in the United States under Promoter Tex Rickard. Both Firpo and Juan Gomez, Rickard's agent, made this announcement this evening.

All the terms have been settled except the date of the bout. Firpo proposes that it be held between August 20 and September 20, while Rickard wants an earlier date.

It is stated that Rickard has accepted Firpo's conditions regarding the fight.

Riverside Loses a Hard Fought Game

Leaksville defeated Riverside in a closely contested game at West End part Saturday by seven to six, overcoming a one-run lead by scoring twice in the fifth. Neither team worked effectively.

The Riverside boys got away to a flying start by scoring four runs in the first inning, but the Leaksville lads came right back with four in the second, forcing Riverside to score two runs in their half to retain the lead.

In the fifth the visiting team got busy and sent two men over and after that held this slender lead to the finish. The batting of the superior steady-pretty even, but the Leaksville men in fielding was the decisive factor, local errors contributing to their score.

The hitting of Carter for Riverside and the catching of Robertson featured. The score:

Victory of Gibbons Over Carpentier Was Decisive

MAJOR CLUBS PREPARING FOR INTERSECTIONAL SERIES

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 2.—Only three games are scheduled in the big leagues today as the teams prepare for the next intersectional series during which all American games will be played in the west and all national contests in the east until June 18.

Detroit, the big cat of the American circuit just returned from a successful prowl, lies in its home jungle awaiting the eastern travelers who must pass through, particularly the Boston Red Sox, with whom it is now tied for second place and the world champions, who lead the procession half a game beyond.

The Tigers, following Cobb, who made three singles and a home run, achieved their position yesterday by defeating Cleveland 10 to 6, while the Red Sox and Yankees were not scheduled.

It was the ninth victory in eleven games for the winners and the ninth defeat in eleven contests for the Indians, who slid into the cellar tied with the Athletics, whose meeting with Washington was postponed by rain.

The Browns' recent terrors of the league, also lost their ninth game in eleven tries when Chicago batted five pitchers for a 7 to 4 victory.

Collins, Hooper and Jacobson made home runs. As a result of the game, the Sox, Browns and Senators are massed around fourth place with St. Louis holding a two point lead.

After a spurt of good baseball which netted nine victories in ten starts and entrenched them in the national lead by 2 1-2 games, the Giants anticipated the coming of the Western teams to the Polo Grounds by a return to their middle western form. Four pitchers allowed 17 hits while their mates made seven errors and Boston won 11 to 6. Terry, a Giant pinch hitter, made his fourth homer of the year.

The Cubs advanced a full game upon the leaders by defeating Pittsburgh 2 to 1 as did the Robins, who triumphed over Philadelphia, 8 to 7.

Chicago bunched three of its six hits off Morrison in the first frame for all its runs. Aldridge held the Pirates to six hits.

Fournier made his tenth homer of the season in the Brooklyn victory which followed rallies after the Phillies had climbed on Grimes for five runs in the seventh inning. Cy Williams had four singles.

The Reds slipped another notch backwards as St. Louis won, 6 to 2, behind Soboron's wild but effective pitching. Donohue was knocked out of the box.

NEVADA TALHELM

LAWRENCE, Kas., May 31.—A perfect 36 with a perfect 100 added, are the records attached to the name of Nevada Tahlhelm, University of Kansas co-ed rifle team captain-elect.

She is the only girl of the Kansas co-ed team to shoot a perfect score in competition. Ten bullseyes are to her credit at 50 feet in a match shoot against the University of Missouri team.

Miss Tahlhelm got her habit of shooting straight by hunting squirrels in the tall trees on her father's farm near Altamont, Kas. She has the "cool gray eye," said to be essential to a good marksman, or man, for that matter. She is a typical example of the modern girl, bobbed hair and everything—including the perfect thirty-six.

Had Fifteen Hot Water Bags Filled With Monkey Rum

Three young men said to be from Danville, are held by the Henry county authorities, charged with transporting liquor. The men in custody are Joe Ballard, Clarence Lancaster, and James Carter. They were in a Ford roadster in which seven and a half gallons of liquor was found. The liquor was contained in fifteen hot water bottles which were carried in a false bottom built into the car. The three have pleaded guilty and have been fined $100, and each sent to jail for thirty days.

TANLAC NEVER FAILS SAYS MRS. W. D. KING

Richmond Lady Says Life Was A Burden Due to Stomach Trouble Until She Took Tanlac.

Declaring herself a life-long friend of Tanlac, Mrs. W. D. King, 508 N. 23rd St., Richmond, Va., recently said:

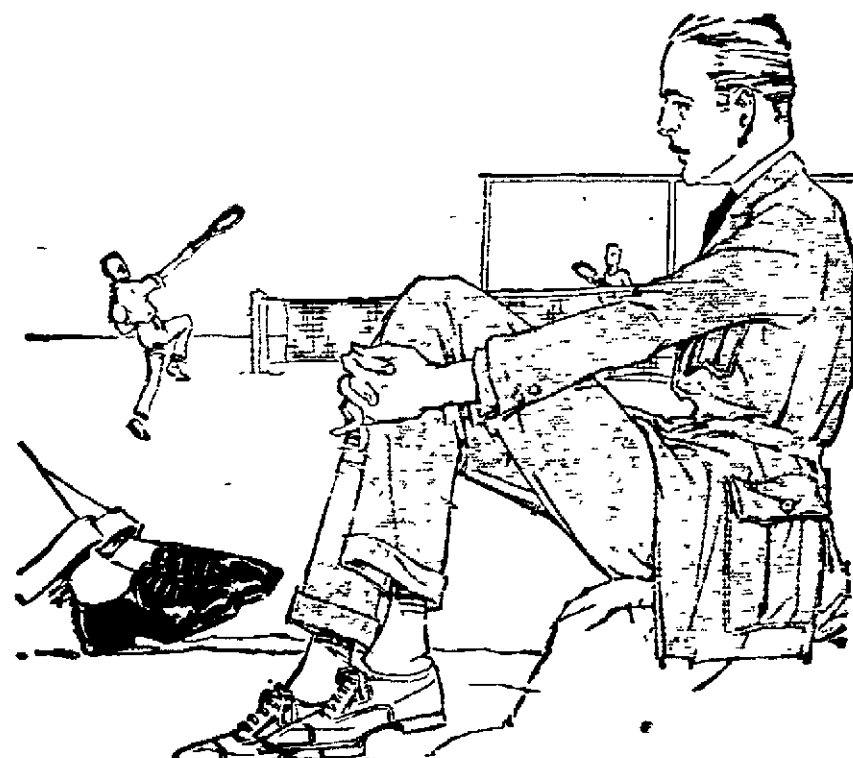

"Tanalac never seems to fail. At least it has never failed my husband and myself and we wouldn't be without it in the house. Before taking Tanlac the first time I was almost a wreck from stomach trouble. I was but little more than a skeleton of my former self. I was so weak and nervous I couldn't do my housework and life was simply a burden.

Three bottles of Tanlac did away with my troubles and made me feel every bit a new person. Since then when I get to feeling a little run-down I take a bottle of Tanlac and it builds me right up. Tanlac keeps my husband and myself both well and I don't believe it has an equal in the world."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Vicentini and Johnny Dundee to Fight Tonight

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 2.—Johnny Dundee, featherweight, and Junior lightweight champion of the world, meets Luis Vicentini, of Chile, in a 12 round decision fight tonight at Madison Square Garden. The bout was originally scheduled for last Wednesday, but was postponed by rain.

Neither of Dundee's titles will be at stake as the battle will be held at the lightweight limit. The winner is expected to be matched with the victor of the Sid Barbarian-Jack Bernstein bout on Wednesday night.

Tex Rickard, promoter of both fights, may match the successful boxer of the quarter with Benny Leonard, lightweight champion.

Tendler Meets Walker Tonight

(By The Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—Lew Tendler, Philadelphia southpaw, will have his third opportunity to win a boxing championship tonight when he meets Mickey Walker of Elizabeth, New Jersey, holder of the world's welterweight title, in a ten round decision bout. Walker is the favorite at 9 to 5, and some wagers of 1 to 4 have been made that he will win by a knockout.

Grandstand Gaff

THREE days on the road—over at Raleigh—and then three days at home again—Durham will be here Thursday, Friday and Saturday for a set-to with the Tobaccoists. The locals split even in the Patriot series here, losing two and winning two.

The fairly gave Carroll's gang a good beating on Saturday. The boys seemed to have found their batting eyes again. Here's hoping they have struck their stride again and will use the willow more effectively so that the good pitching of the twirlers will not go to naught.

With good hitting behind the local hurlers, Danville should crawl on to the top rapidly. She has five of the best moundsmen in the circuit, as a whole. There may be other pitchers better individually but combined Danville comes first beyond a doubt. The willow work is all they need at present.

That was a fine exhibition they put up against Greensboro Saturday when they licked the Patriots. The visitors were spotted to three runs but the locals plugged away and finally doubled their opponents' score in the end. Three Patriot hurriers were batted hard.

Allison, utility player, once with Danville has been cut adrift by Manager Jackson of the Twins. Allison is no bad player either, with his arm in shape. He no doubt will be picked up by some club immediately. Jackson also plans a further shake-up by the release of other players it is stated from Winston.

Firpo Expected To Sign For a Bout With Wills Today

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 2.—Luis Firpo is expected to sign contract in Buenos Aires today for a match with Harry Wills at Boyles Thirty Acres in Jersey City early in August under the promotion of Tex Rickard.

Firpo's signature will restore Rickard's plans for an elimination bout preceding a match between its winner and Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship at Boyles Thirty Acres in September.

Firpo will receive about $250,000, Rickard said. Wills is under contract but his stipend was not made public. Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, will arrive here today for a conference regarding plans for the championship match.

HOW TO INCREASE TAXES

If you want your taxes increased, vote for the candidates for council nominated by the Good Government Club. The council nominated by the Good Government Club and elected four years ago, brought suit against the people of Danville, who elected them, and prevented the 20% reduction which had been granted by the Board of Review on the 1920 exorbitant assessment.

Of the original council nominated by the Good Government Club and elected four years ago, L. B. Conway and S. J. Owens, were the only members opposed to bringing the suit against the people of Danville to fasten upon them that exorbitant assessment. It is said that one member of the council read a paper urging the council to bring the suit, another member made the motion instructing the city attorney to file the suit and seven members of the council voted for the resolution. L. B. Conway and S. J. Owens were the only members of the council who voted against this resolution.

Members of the Good Government Club were present when the motion was made and seemed disposed to back the council in the position taken in opposing said 20% reduction which had been granted the people by the Board of Review.

When the Legislature was in session in 1922 that same council tried to have the city tax rate increased 50c on the $100.00.

In 1923 while the Legislature was in session, that same council endeavored, through the Danville School Board to have the city tax rate increased 25c on the $100.00.

That same council declined to order an election for School bonds unless the school board would get the Legislature to authorize an increase in the city tax rate, but later when an attorney stated that action by the Legislature was not required to enable the council to increase the city tax rate, it ordered an election for school bonds.

When the Legislature was in session in 1924, that same council tried again to have the city tax rate increased 25c on the $100.00.

The "Good Government Club Council" and some members of the Good Government Club, seem to be always ready and anxious to increase the tax burdens of Danville citizens, in spite of the fact that statistics show that $1.00 of every $8.00 that the people of the United States produce, is taken from them in taxes.

It has been said that there is no better way to judge the future than by the past. Some of the Good Government Club's members and seven of the "Good Government Club Council" increased your taxes one time and tried three other times to increase your taxes, and if the Good Government Club's nominees are elected to the council on June 10th., 1924, they will probably endeavor to increase your taxes whenever they think it possible to do so.

People of Danville: If you think that "The Good Government Club Council" and the Good Government Club have treated you right in this tax question, vote for the Good Government Club's nominees. If you think the seven men who voted to sue you and have persistently fought to have your taxes increased, treated you right, vote for the Good Government Club's candidates for the city council, but if you don't want your taxes increased and want a square deal from the men whom you elect on June 10th., 1924 to represent you in the city council, vote the straight

MR. T. O'ROURKE

Tex O'Rourke, American Irishman with a full quota of entangling centimetres, is in England trying to develop a non-floppable heavyweight.

As soon as he conveys this double jointed miracle around the bases for the winning run he will again prove that other impossibilities are not only possible but long overdue.

Mr. O'Rourke's next number, lanes and hangers, will be the selection of a Republican cabinet without the assistance of a black satchel, an oil prospectus, or a little green house in K street.

The Americanistic missionary is making progress with his astonishing lack of speed. After 10 months he has advanced to a point where he can look at one of his pupils and keep a straight face, almost.

However, no British heavyweight manages to keep a straight face long. Either a Carpentier or a Dempsey comes along with a straight right and the surgeons have another job.

Mr. O'Rourke has three promising heavies in Price, Hagstad and Ington, all of whom have promised to remember to get back on their feet, if possible, before the count of "ten."

It is said that Price is the best of the simple bunch, which may be like saying the best of the Athletics are the best eighth place ball club in the American League.

One of the questions Professor O'Rourke puts to his advanced class in backward thinking is "What is the strategic thing to do on being knocked down?"

The answer is, of course, "Call for a guest pillow."

Another question is, "In boxing Dempsey is it advisable to conduct an aggressive or defensive battle?"

The answer is, "It is advisable to ignore the boulder entirely."

What an excellent chance for Fred Fulton if he had been born triplets!

Pistol Affrays Land 4 In Jail

The Danville police department was called upon on Sunday night to deal with two shooting affairs, neither resulting seriously. Henry Johnson and his brother, George Johnson, the latter a hospital orderly, are in jail, each charged with shooting Iola Johnson, Henry Johnson's wife at his home on Doe street at about 1:30 o'clock on Sunday night. The woman was struck on the back of the head with a revolver bullet but her skull proved bullet-proof and the missile glanced upward and inflicted little more than a scalp wound. She is, however, Providence Hospital.

Iola, according to the police charges, George with shooting her. Both men fired revolvers at her and it is not quite clear just whose bullet hit the woman. The three quarreled over a trivial household affair. It is said when George came home no dinner was ready and from that moment the fur began to fly until late at night, the shooting irons took a part in the affair.

Officers who investigated the affair were Sergeant J. L. Edwards and Officer Kessler and Collie. They arrested the two brothers at Providence hospital.

The second shooting took place at Liberty Hill shortly before ten o'clock. Ben Gather was shot in the forearm. It is alleged by Edja Brooks, who denies the charge. Both men are in jail, the police charging that a card game provoked the shooting. Two or three shots were fired according to Officers Bragg and Edwards who investigated the matter and who made the arrests.

Eugene Criqui, Defeated Again, To Quit Ring

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, June 2.—Eugene Criqui, France's doughty little soldier-pugilist, has failed in his attempt to come back after the beating he received at the hands of Johnny Dundee. Yesterday he went down under the onslaught of Danny Frush, another American, and after the fight declared he was through with the ring.

Criqui had intended, if he won, to seek immediately another chance at Dundee in the hope of re-annexing the world's featherweight championship. The bid for opportunity of tilting for Dundee's crown will now be made by Frush.

The knockout came in the eighth round of the scheduled 20-round affair, after Criqui had been saved by the gong in the seventh. Up to that time the fighting had been fairly even, but Frush emerged from the conflict unmarked while in the two final rounds Criqui suffered a very severe beating. The knockout blow was a right to Criqui's famous silver plate jaw, a relic of his war experience.

Criqui never really got over the beating he received from Dundee. He admitted this last night when he said: "I don't want to detract from Frush's victory, but it was Johnny Dundee who beat me again today."

Carpentier Is Nursing Badly Sprained Ankle

(By The Associated Press.)
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., June 2.—George Carpentier, ring hero of France, defeated Saturday afternoon in his ten-round bout with Tommy Gibbons, the St. Paul light heavyweight, remained in bed here today with a badly swollen right ankle sprained in the ninth round of his losing battle.

Four physicians said the ankle was badly sprained, their examination revealing torn ligaments. In that announcement to the public the defeated boxer found some solace for the lousy bores and taunts flung at him when he sank to the mat with his face twisted with pain. It was regarded as probable that x-ray pictures of the ankle would be made today.

Carpentier probably will remain here a week with Francois Descompe, his manager, while they plan their next steps. Despite his defeat, Carpentier still is a strong drawing card and half a dozen offers for future ring contests were received yesterday. The Frenchman hopes to carry out his plans to meet Gene Tunney, the American light heavyweight champion.

Gibbons broke camp yesterday, going to St. Paul. He was unmarked and played a round of golf before packing Mr. Gibbons and the three youngsters off to the train.

Carpentier was paid a flat guarantee of $70,000 while Gibbons worked on a basis of 70 per cent. of the income. A re-check of figures indicated the "mate" would be nearer $240,000 than the $227,000 first announced.

It is also learned on good authority that Manager Jackson's plans somewhat of a shake-up having other players in view to replacing certain ones on the team now.

GENUINE LIFE DRAMA IN CHAPLIN PICTURE

"A Woman of Paris" Presents Entirely New and Novel Form of Film Entertainment

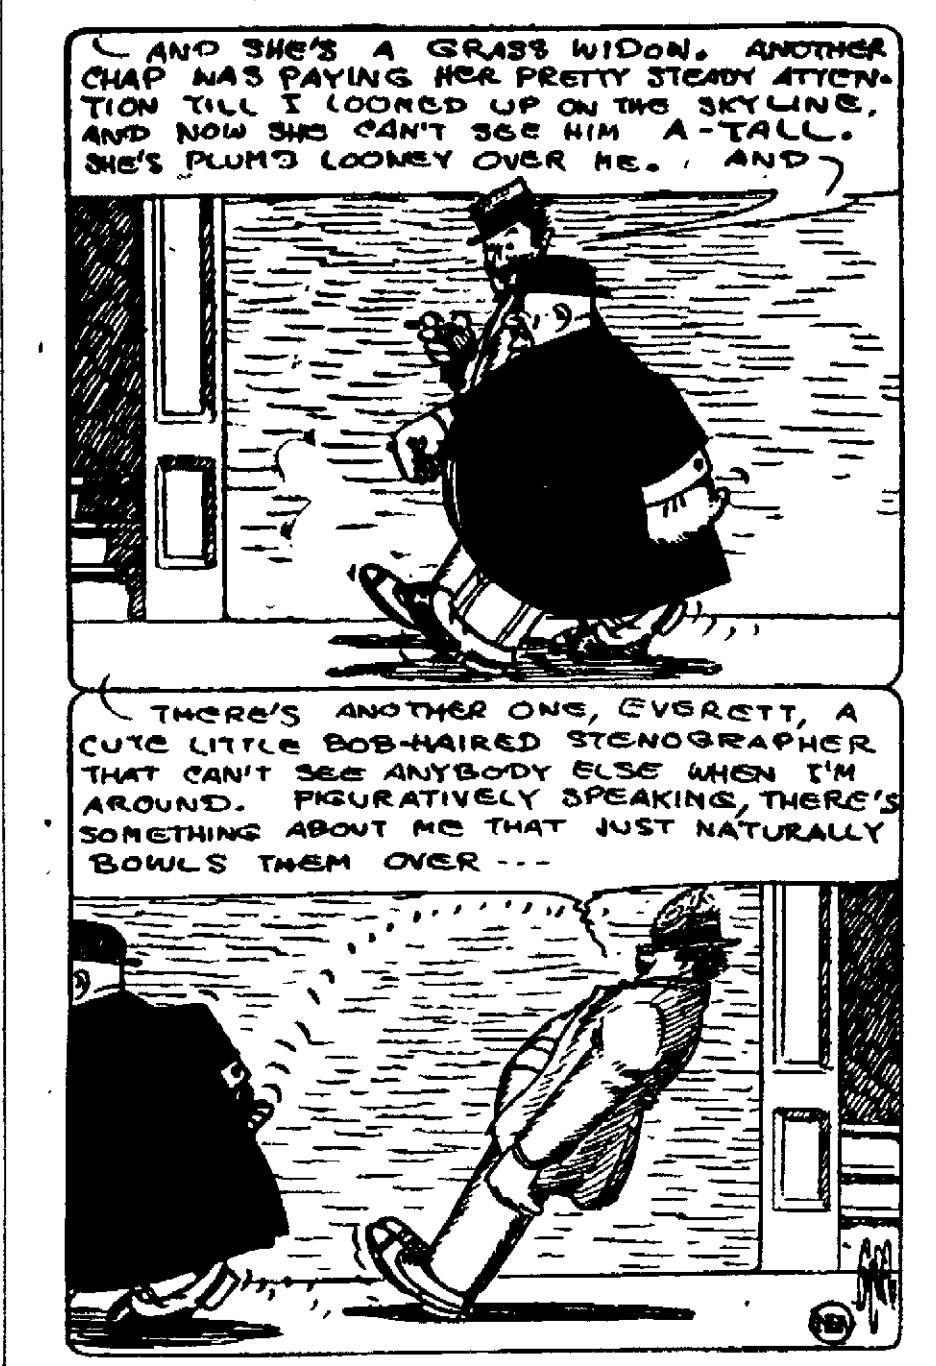

For real, genuine interesting entertainmentmen go to the Broadway theatre and see Charles Chaplin's first dramatic production, "A Woman of Paris," with Edna Purviance. This United Artists attraction, which is playing Monday and Tuesday is one of the real treats which are often sought, but so rarely seen, in pictures. This poignant drama of life carries one through a phase of Parisian life, following the career of Marie St. Clair as though one had known this interesting character oneself, that one feels one is a part of the drama being enacted.

Even to the end, which has nothing to do with passionate close-ups romance ever-lasting, but is instead, utterly human, reasonable—the aftermath of a mellow, passionate, married soul. "A Woman of Paris" gives the spectator something for the theatre, something to think about—the fact that life still rolls on around one, much like the horse-drawn carriage and the millionaire's limousine

The REFEREE

BY ALBERT APPLE.

HOKUM

If you are within earshot of business leaders, you hear them discussing the business slump and their explanation of it usually includes a mumble about "those investigations in Washington."

Those investigations have had no more to do with it than if they had taken place in Timbuktou, on the edge of the Sahara desert.

Business slipped because the public curtailed its buying. Stagnation in the retail field naturally backs up into wholesaling and manufacturing channels. The late spring started dullness in buying.

BAGDAD

We Americans seem to be able to handle hot potatoes with fewer burns than any other people.

It looks now as if American capital will operate the Bagdad Railway. Germany's determination to control that line was one of the main causes of the World War. And yet Americans could take charge with little or no friction.

We appear to have a sort of destiny as an international referee. Graybeard nations look to young America for advice. That's unusual. However, they don't always take the advice.

SOVIET

Soviet Russia is beginning to eat its own fiery words. Having vigorously repudiated the pre-war debts contracted by the czar's government, the Soviet is feeling out London along this line: "We'll recognize our pre-war obligations in exchange for a long-term loan."

A similar arrangement is not impossible between France and Russia. Money is the Real Government in every country.

COTTON

England's running a campaign to make the British Empire independent of American cotton. This campaign is "assuming alarming proportions."

Reports Bartlett, president of N. Y. Cotton Exchange, in Australia and South Africa, cotton plantations are springing up galore. And yet it will be many years before British growers can begin to replace the losses due to the boll weevil in America. This little beetle may destroy our cotton export trade.

LEGACY UNEXPECTED.

GLASGOW, Scotland, June 2.—John Thomson, a jobless warehouse porter, has moved from the poor quarter to one of the finest residential sections of Glasgow. Because he wrote letters and performed a few other simple services for an itinerant knife-grinder here, Thomson recently came into a legacy of several thousand pounds when the knife grinder died.

TWENTY-FIFTH ARTICLE.

First Mortgages.

A good deal of confusion exists in the minds of prospective investors as to first mortgages. There seems to be a sort of magic about the term first mortgage which blinds the eyes of many to other considerations which are just as important. Now it goes without saying that a first mortgage is better than a second mortgage on the same property. It is perfectly possible, however, for a second or even a third mortgage on one piece of property to be better than a first mortgage upon some other piece of property. It is even true sometimes that the unsecured obligation of one corporation is better than the secured obligation of another. Take, for instance, two of the highest grade investment bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange. The first is United States Steel sinking fund 5s. Probably no industrial listed issue has a higher rating and yet it is a second mortgage on the property of the United States Steel Corporation. The first mortgage is also a 5 per cent. issue but is unlisted and so closely held that it is rarely dealt in. The other case is that of the General Electric debenture 5s. These are not secured by mortgage at all but depend for their investment merit upon the credit of the General Electric Company. And so it does not necessarily follow that the fact that a bond is secured by first mortgage puts it in the highest class. What you must consider in each case is the equity in the property over and above the amount of the loan and the credit standing of the borrower.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

(Thomson & McKinnon)

NEW YORK, June 2.—The market has had a rest, traders have had a rest and everyone should be able to take another look and survey conditions calmly. But I doubt very much if the market views will be modified because nothing has occurred to warrant a change of opinion. Every trade report I have seen during the last few days confirms the views with regard to the declining tendency. There are two points that are favorable and prevent a panic decline—one is an abundance of money, the other moderate inventories. Under bullish conditions we will have just the opposite—larger inventories, a bigger demand for money. The change will come in time but it is not in sight. The political situation is certainly not reassuring. The best that I can see for the present is an occasional rally.
